

Quote of the month

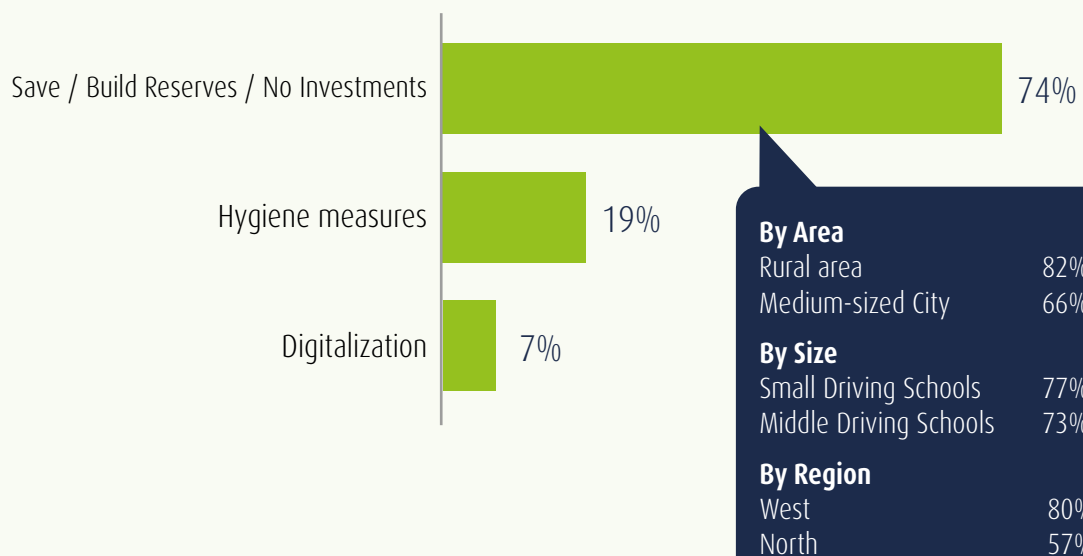

„About half of the driving schools are taking precautions to avoid to be prepared for another lockdown. The most popular precautionary measures are saving, forming reserves and to adapt the investment behavior. This form of provision meet especially many small driving schools and driving schools in rural areas.“

Jörg-Michael Satz, President of MOVING International Road Safety Association e. V.

Are you making preparations for a possible further crisis - a second lockdown?

What specific preparations are you making for your company?
