

Quote of the month

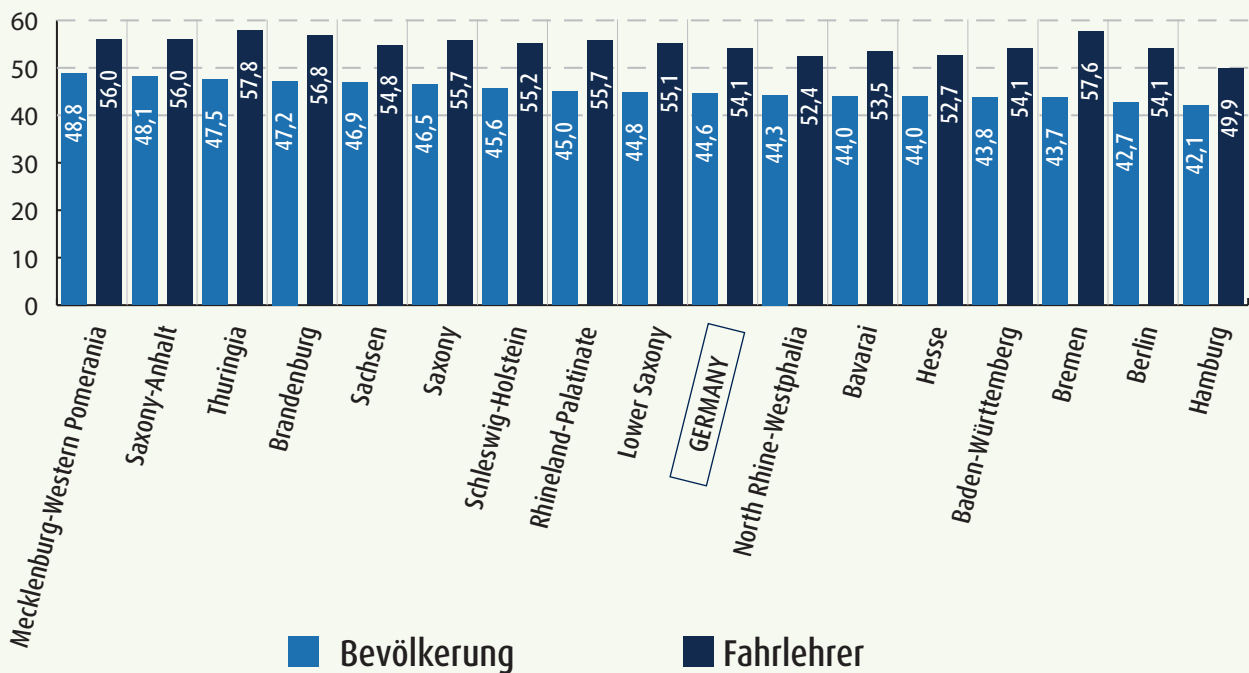

„The average age of the population in Germany in 2020 was 44.6 years. By comparison, the average age of driving instructors in 2020 was 54.1 years.

Hamburg not only has the youngest population on average at around 42 years of age, but also the youngest driving instructors on average at just under 50 years of age.“

Jörg-Michael Satz, President of MOVING International Road Safety Association e. V.

Average age of the population and driving instructors in 2020: (according to federal states)

Source: GDV 2021, KBA Statistics 2021 and own calculations

